WASHINGTON NEWS.

Proceedings of the Senate and House.

LAND LOAN BILL DEFEATED.

It Has Been Indefinitely Postponed by the Senate—Appropriation Bills Considered—But Little Legislation Accomplished in the House—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—In the senate yesterday the credentials of W. A. Peffer as senator-elect, from Kansas, was presented and filed.

Mr. Stanford's government land loan bill was reported back adversely with a recommendation that its consideration be indefinitely postponed.

The diplomatic and consular appropriation bill was then considered and a long debate ensued on the amendment increasing the salary of the minister to Portugal from $5,000 to $10,000. The amendment was finally ruled out.

The Hawaiian cable amendment which was adopted Monday came before the senate yesterday on a motion to reconsider the vote by which it was passed, but the motion was defeated.

The diplomatic bill was then passed and the copyright bill taken up but the senate adjourned without taking action on it.

In the house a resolution was reported for the impeachment of Alexander Bonnam, United States district judge for the western district of Louisiana. The resolution was ordered printed and recommitted. The conference report on the fortification bill was agreed to. The Indian appropriation bill was then considered in committee of the whole and its engrossment and the third reading ordered. The house then adjourned.

Presbyterian Assembly.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The Presbyterian assembly committee, which has been in secret session here for eleven days, has finished its work and adjourned. The results of its labor will not be made known until the next meeting of the assembly, at Detroit during the coming summer. The principal work of the committee was the revision of the confession of faith. The sessions of the committee were entirely harmonious, despite the fact that two-thirds were in favor of revision and one-third opposed.

Acting upon the suggestions received from the various Presbyteries, the chapters in the confession relating to the dress of God, and the future of infants received a good deal of attention from the committee, and it is believed that the changes were adopted which have been approved by the Presbytery.

The committee, it is understood, have decided to recommend the addition of two new chapters, one devoted to a statement of God's love and the other to the gospel.

While of course nothing positive can be said relative to the report, it is understood that no radical departure is recommended.

The committee received a good many social attentions during its stay here, being entertained at dinner by Postmaster Harrison, Secretary Noble and Postmaster General Wamaker, and several handsome receptions were given.

General Deficiency Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The general deficiency bill for 1891 and prior years was reported to the house yesterday. This bill is the last on the docket of the committee. It appropriates amounts aggregating $38,574,308. Among the items contained in the bill are the following: For repairs to the public building at Atlanta, Ga., $175,000; for completing public building at Auburn, $10,000; for relief of citizens of Oklahoma who have been rendered destitute by the drought of the past season, $50,000; toward the construction and completion of new vessels here before authorized by congress, $1,000,000; for army and navy pensions, $28,678,333; for fees of marshals, $100,000 for 1891, and $214,327 for 1890; for the payment of court of claims judgments to the Central Pacific Railroad company, $504,091.

Senator Quay Will Go South.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Senator Quay will leave Washington to-day for Florida, where he will remain six weeks or two months in the hope of benefiting his health.

General Schofield Ill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Maj. Gen. Schofield is confined to his house by a severe cold, consequently he was unable to attend the funeral of Admiral Porter yesterday.

AMERICAN REPUBLICS.

Some of the Latest Information Received by That Body.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—From late papers received at the bureau of the American republics from Brazil it is learned that important modifications have been made in the constitution submitted to the convention by the provisional government. The clause excluding the Jesuits from the country and forbidding the establishment of new convents or monastic orders has been stricken out, although the prohibition against National aid to any sect or form of worship remains.

Recent information from Rio de Janeiro states that the trans-Andine railway destined to connect Montevideo and Buenos Ayres with Santiago, in Chili, is making rapid progress toward completion. The locomotives were expected to run to the boundary line of the latter country by the end of the year 1890. Four steel bridges of 250 feet span and one of 200 feet over the river Mendoza were ready for use on the middle of December last. This route to Santiago is already being used by travelers in preference to the voyage by sea around Cape Horn.

RISEING RIVERS.

Damaging Floods Sure to Follow the Present Heavy Rains.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 18.—Rain is again falling, and the rivers, particularly the Allegheny, continues to rise and it is now feared that the disastrous flood of 1884 will be exceeded by the present rise in the rivers. Property owners along the rivers are now thoroughly frightened and damage to property in the city of Allegheny will be very great.

At 11 o'clock last night the marks in the Allegheny river showed thirty-one feet and rising. River men think that at least a thirty-three foot stage will be reached and possibly higher if the present rainfall continues.

Reports from points along the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers are to the effect that nearly every town and island is badly flooded, and hundreds of people have been compelled to flee from their homes. Vast quantities of drift, logs and buildings are coming down the Allegheny river, indicating that property for many miles up that river has suffered great damage.

All of the Baltimore and Ohio railway branches, the Pittsburg and Western and the Pittsburg, McKeesport and Youngstown railroad are shut down on account of washouts and slides immovable. Should the water reach the point anti gated, the traffic on several railroads will be closed. Rolling mills, glass factories, furnaces and manufactories by the score in this city have been flooded out and work suspended.

At an early hour yesterday evening the street car lines between Allegheny and Pittsburg were compelled to cease operations.

Sharpsburg and lower Allegheny City are surrounded by water, in some instances reaching to second floors. The discommoded occupants have suffered heavy losses. All of last night men, women and children were engaged in hasty removal of effects to places of safety, but the rivers came up so rapidly that in some cases the loss of household goods will be almost total.

Leaves Flying from the Flood.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Feb. 18.—The streams are increasing in volume and the people are becoming frightened, and those who have not moved are making preparations to go. At West Latrobe the Loyalhauna covers an area one-half mile wide and much of the town is submerged, the water rising to the second and third stories of the buildings along the creek bottom. The buildings are already damaged, and as the rain still keeps falling, it is feared they may be carried away altogether.

At Lacine, Irwin, Manor, Pa., Harrison City, Crabtree and other places the water is very high and persons living in the lowlands are preparing to move out.

In the low parts of this city all the cellars are flooded and Gillindore & Sons' glass works are damaged. Bridges, fences, haystacks, etc., have been carried away. The aggregate loss will run up to the thousands.

Preparing for the Worst.

WHEELING, W. Va., Feb. 18.—Everybody in Wheeling is preparing for a flood greater than any since the deluge in 1884. Reports from all sections of this state show heavy rains and small streams swollen. The railroads entering this city are all blocked by run-ways and slides and outside communication is almost entirely cut off.

Johnstown Fears No Great Danger.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Feb. 18.—It is believed that danger from the high water has passed, and further damage is not now probable. The Stoney creek is now stationary, while the Conemaugh river is slowly falling although the rain continues. All industrial establishments are closed down, and business is at a standstill.

FIGHT WITH AXES.

A Wood Chopper Brutally Butchered by His Fellow Workman.

DEADWOOD, S. Dak., Feb. 18.—News has just reached this city of a fight with axes between Danes employed chopping wood on Elk creek, sixteen miles from this city. The two men, between whom there had been bad blood for some time, met Sunday afternoon. The quarrel was quickly renewed and both grabbed axes.

Max Selbeck swung his around quickly, letting the keen edge of his weapon fall on the side of Charles Smith's face. The man's head was cut wide open. He fell and Selbeck rained three or four blows on his prostrate form, breaking his back and cutting horrible gashes in his side and hips. Despite his frightful wounds Smith is still alive, but he will certainly die. Selbeck has been arrested.

THROUGH A BRIDGE.

An Accident That Might Have Been More Disastrous Than It Was.

ERIE, Pa., Feb. 18.—Yesterday afternoon a train on the Lake Shore road crashed into the freight cars, the detached section of an Erie and Pittsburg freight train that had been left standing on the Conant creek bridge, about twenty-five miles from this city, while the Erie and Pittsburg crew were doing some switching.

Eight Erie and Pittsburg cars and cabooses, as well as the Lake Shore engine and eight cars, crashed through the bridge. The engineer escaped by jumping and his fireman was fished out of the creek. No one was seriously hurt. Traffic was interrupted for a time, but a foot bridge has been constructed and passengers are being transferred.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18.—Advices from Samon per steamship Alameda state that wreckers have begun to work on the vessels submerged in Apia harbor, and that it is expected that the United States flagship Trenton, wrecked in the storm of March 16, 1889, will be floated shortly, or as soon as the boilers can be removed from the vessel.

SWITCHES FOR RAFTSMEN.

Two Men Tied to Stakes and Terribly Hurt for Stealing Their Work.

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., Feb. 18.—Several days ago, during the last timber-tide in Sandy river, several timber-rafts stopped for the night at the residence of John Preston, near Richardson. Some ten or twelve men were with the timber. Among the number were James Richie and Albert Sharter. Early in the evening the men were called upon to go into the river to spar the timber from the shore. The two men named refused to accompany the main body, and remained at the house to play the gallant to Mr. Preston's daughters.

A bundle of switches was procured, the offenders tied to stakes and a terrible whipping administered. Sharter was forced to return to his home, and is reported to be in a very precarious condition. Richie came to this place, but did not have his assailants molested.

Ben Ali Haggin Dead.

Banker Charged With Murder.

CLARKE, Neb., Feb. 18.—Banker S. B. Bowles was arrested at Columbus, while on his way to Omaha, charged with the murder of his wife.

WHISKY TRUST CASE.

Gibson's Place Filled by the Directors, Counts in the Indictment.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—A rumor gained currency yesterday morning that the whisky trust magnates would at the meeting yesterday prepare for publication a comprehensive statement of Secretary Gibson's alleged connection with a dynamite conspiracy. President Greenhut said in the afternoon there was no intention of issuing any further statement and that there were no further developments in the case. Mr. Greenhut said the directors were simply holding this meeting to transact some business.

P. J. Hennessy, a Chicago man, was yesterday appointed secretary of the whisky trust, vice George J. Gibson resigned.

The indictment found by the grand jury against George J. Gibson, ex-secretary of the whisky trust, contains six counts. The first charges Gibson with conspiracy with others unknown, to murder the proprietors of the shaftfield distillery with dynamite. The second count charges the conspiracy to have been to kill with gun powder. The third count charges him with having in his possession explosives for an unlawful purpose. The fourth count charges a conspiracy with unknowns to commit murder with explosives. The fifth and sixth counts were for conspiring to do an unlawful act by means of explosives.

A capias was issued directed to the sheriff of Peoria county, directing him to take the body of George J. Gibson, "if he shall be found in your county."

It is understood that the capias will be taken down to Peoria by a deputy sheriff, accompanied by one of the United States revenue officers who has seen Gibson and knows him. The bail was fixed by Judge Shepard at $25,000, on the suggestion of the state's attorney.

Gibson's Whereabouts.

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 18.—All reports that George J. Gibson has left Peoria are being published for certain ulterior purposes. He was at the National hotel yesterday morning. Certain of the distillers circulate this report, that he has left, while certain others are denying it, and it is thought that the reports, stating that he has left, are for the purpose of manufacturing public sentiment in his behalf.

DYNAMITERS IN KENTUCKY.

One of the Principal Business Buildings at Perryville Demolished.

DANVILLE, Ky., Feb. 18.—Not since the battle that made the place famous twenty-eight years ago has there been such excitement in the town of Perryville, nine miles from here, as there was at an early hour Sunday morning, when the citizens were startled from their slumbers by a report that shook the village from center to circumference. When those rushing from their homes reached the scene of the explosion it was discovered that a dastardly attempt had been made to blow up the store of W. H. Parks, a prominent citizen and one of the town trustees. All of the front of the large dry goods store was demolished. The windows in the neighborhood were shattered, and a large chimney some distance away tipped over by the explosion, the report of which was heard three miles in the country. That it was the result of malicious work is undoubted, as there were no explosives in the store, and the agent is thought to have been dynamite. A clew in the possession of the officers may lead to the identification of the perpetrators of the deed.

A Village's Fire Loss.

BLOOMINGBURG, O., Feb. 18.—Early yesterday morning the large general store of James Pinkerton was completely destroyed by fire, together with all its contents. Loss, $1,000; no insurance. S. H. Saylor's harness shop, adjoining, was also destroyed; loss, $400; no insurance. A number of adjoining houses were badly damaged. It is supposed that the fire was caused by burglars accidentally setting fire to the goods by striking matches, as a bolt of partially burned muslin was found on the door steps.

Young Hunter Killed.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 18.—Emil Eicher, the 17-year-old son of a well known citizen, was fatally injured yesterday morning while out on the river hunting ducks. In some manner the coat of a companion caught in the hammer of his gun, and an entire load of duck-shot was emptied into the young man's side. Most of the load lodged in the vicinity of the spinal column. He was brought ashore as rapidly as possible, and prompt medical assistance summoned, but without any avail.

Arrested for Cutting Telegraph Wires.

BRAZIL, Ind., Feb. 18.—J. K. Miller, a farmer, was rearrested, this time on a writ issued by the Clay circuit court, for cutting down the Postal Telegraph company's wires west of Brazil. He was placed under $300 bond, and in default was jailed. Later he was released on bond. When the company's lineman undertook to repair the lines Friday, Miller caused his arrest for trespass. The company offers a reward for the conviction of any one molesting their wires.

Horse Thief Sentenced.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 18.—James McLean stole a horse and buggy from John Fenselman, a livery man of this city, in September, 1884. He was finally run down in the Ohio prison at Columbus, where he was serving a term. At its expiration he was immediately brought here. His trial occurred yesterday, and the jury found him guilty, assessing the punishment at five years in prison.

Montana Is Out of Sight.

BOZEMAN, Mont., Feb. 18.—Snow is thirty inches deep. Old-timers say it is the heaviest snow-fall in fifteen years. There is as yet no delay to trains, but should a strong wind come up the drift would become troublesome.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1891.

Quay's long-talked-of explanation does not explain much. His answer to the many charges against him may be summed up in the following: They are lies, lies, nothing but lies.

One member of the Constitutional convention has introduced to date half a thousand bills, amendments or substitutes and delivered from five hundred to six hundred speeches. He ought to be retired on half pay for the rest of the session.

If Kentucky is to be divided into two U. S. judicial districts, Paris wants to have one of the courts, and her citizens have already forwarded a memorial and petition to Senator Blackburn. He says, however, that there is no prospect of the passage of the bill for that purpose at the present session.

A CANVAS of the Ohio House of Representatives for Presidential preferences resulted as follows: Democrats—Cleveland, 30; Hill, 14; Campbell, 2; Carlisle, 2; Brice, 1; Gray, 1; Palmer 1; no choice, 3. Republicans—Blaine, 21; McKinley, 12; Harrison, 9; Lincoln, 1; no choice, 3. Cleveland still seems to be "in it."

A COMBINATION of Democrats and Alliance members knocked out the Republicans in the South Dakota Legislature, and the G. O. P. will have one less representative in the U. S. Senate after the 11th of next month. And there are excellent prospects that just such a combination will settle the Senatorial fight in Illinois in favor of General Palmer.

Ohio Mortgage Record.

The following table, showing the number of mortgages, other than railroad, recorded and canceled in Ohio during the year ending June 30, 1890, together with the amount received thereon, is from advance sheets of the Secretary of State's report:

No. Rec'd	Am't Rec'd	No. Rec'd	Am't Rec'd

Corporation Elections.

Section 21, the last of the chapter on corporations, has reference to the election of directors and managers, and it will cut quite a figure in such contests in the future. It says: "In all elections of directors and managers of any corporation, each shareholder shall have the right to cast as many votes in the aggregate as he or she shall be entitled to vote in said company under its charter, multiplied by the number of directors or managers to be elected at such election; and each shareholder may cast the whole number of votes, either in person or by proxy, for one candidate, or distribute such votes among two or more candidates, and such directors or managers shall not be elected in any other manner."

There was a warm discussion on this subject. The Courier-Journal says: "Judge Whitaker referred to the case of the Maysville and Lexington turnpike, in which the State had enough stock to entitle her to at least three directors. Yet he said the State never had been represented. A very smooth, large stockholder, he said, had farmed out the holdings so as to control the election of all the directors by granting privileges to those voting for him. Under this section the State would be represented in the board."

For the Farmer

Fifty-four head of horses, sold at Lexington Monday, brought $28,730.

Since January 1 the receipts of hogs at Chicago aggregate 1,450,000 head. This is 248,000 head more than were received during the same time last year.

"If you have a good stallion don't be afraid to advertise and let the public know it," is the advice of an experienced horseman. "If you have a poor one dispose of him as soon as you can and get one that will be worth pushing."

Wool-growing presents a feasible means of improving and making profitable the poor and rough lands in the different sections of this country. Such lands are abundant, and are unsuited for pasturing heavy cattle and for tillage, and many poor owners of rough and thin lands could be relieved from distressing circumstances if they would stop plowing and stock up with good sheep.

Mr. P. M. Babcock, a representative of the Kentucky Stock Farm in Tennessee, writes: "The aggregate value of live stock in this State in 1880 was $43,908,493.20. Of this grand total there were 266,119 horses, whose aggregate value was $14,365,167.62. This grand aggregate increased from and including 1880 to 1890 to the grand showing of $53,507,378.19, and of this aggregate in 1890, we had 289,657 horses, whose aggregate valuation was $21,881,614.90."

THE KEEFER CASE.

Creditors Come Out Victorious and Will Get Their Pro Rata of the Assets.

The Attachment of the First National Bank of Covington Dismissed and the Assignment Sustained.

Judge Menzies of the Chancery Court at Covington rendered a decision Monday that is of considerable importance to several citizens of Maysville and Mason County.

It was a final judgment in the case of the First National Bank (of Covington) versus the D. Keefe Milling Company.

On January 7th, 1889, a big sensation was created at Covington and in this city and county by the company named executing a deed of assignment to B. F. Graziana for the benefit of its creditors. On the same day, and before the deed was left for record, the bank levied its attachment on the mill property.

The judgment shows that the bank's debt amounts to $77,301.98, and the total indebtedness is $123,000. The judgment discharges the attachment and upholds the assignment.

The articles of incorporation of the milling company provide that the company shall not at any time incur an indebtedness in excess of $30,000. The court holds that the bank had notice of this section, and can only be paid its pro rata on the $30,000, and that it can not recover any part of the remaining $47,000.

The result of the judgment is, that the assets of the milling company will be distributed equally among all the creditors, and the bank loses its claim to the extent of $47,000; not only that, but it loses part of the $30,000, as the company will not pay out in full. The bank appealed at once from Judge Menzies' decision and has executed a supersedeas bond.

As stated above the claims against the company amount to $123,189.39, counting the claims of the bank at $77,338.91, but the judgment allows only $30,000 of this $77,338.91. The following shows the other creditors and the amount of their claims:

He Changes to Stone.

One of the most remarkable human curiosities ever seen has been examined by M. de Quatrefages, the French naturalist. He is a provincial named Simeon Aiguier, and is 80 years old. Aiguier, thanks to his peculiar system of muscles and nerves, can transform himself in most wondrous fashion.

At one moment, assuming the rigidity of a statue, his body may be struck sharply, the blows falling on a block of stone. At another he moves his intestines from above and below and right to left into the form of a large football, and projects it forward, which gives him the appearance of a colossally stout personage.

He then withdraws it into the thorax, opening like a cave, and the hollow look of his body immediately reminds one of a skeleton. Aiguier successfully imitates a man subjected to the tortures of the rack, as also a man hanging himself, and assumes a strikingly cadaverous look. What most astonished M. de Quatrefages was the stoppage of the circulation of the blood, now on the left and now on the right side, which was effected by muscular contraction.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

An Eagle Trapped by a Locomotive.

While a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy freight train was coming from Burlington here recently the engineer noticed an eagle sitting on the track feasting on a rabbit.

The eagle arose when the engine drew near, but the locomotive was running so rapidly that the big bird could not clear it. One of the wings flapped into the wedge shaped space formed by the headlight bracket and the extension at the front end of the boiler, and was held there as in a vise. The fireman went forward and released the wing and carried the eagle into the cab, where it showed fight and made things lively for the engineer, who finally cornered it and brought it here alive. It is now the property of R. W. Colville, master mechanic of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and is an unusually fine specimen.—Galesburg (Ils.) Cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Earnings of Railways for 1890.

Bradstreet's gives the gross earnings of 129 railways for the year 1890. The amount realized on a total mileage of 85,678 was $184,239,134. This is a gain of 8.6 per cent. in earnings and 2.7 per cent. in mileage. The gain on 130 roads in 1889 over 1888 was 8.5 per cent. Every group of roads shows an increase for the year, the smallest gain being that of the Mexican roads, seven-tenths of 1 per cent., and the largest that of the southwestern roads, 12.7 per cent. In addition to the latter three others show gains in excess of 10 per cent.—viz., the eastern roads, 10.3 per cent.; the southern roads, 12 per cent., and the Pacific roads, 10.9 per cent. The central western roads gain 9.5 per cent., and the grangers 8.7 per cent., while the trunk lines show the comparatively modest gain of 2.4 per cent.

Explosion of Natural Gas.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 18.—Early yesterday morning an explosion of natural gas occurred in residence No. 26, River avenue, Allegheny, occupied by Owen McAnzhin and family. The interior of the dwelling house was almost totally demolished. The inmates were all badly but probably not fatally hurt. The house was surrounded by water from the Allegheny river. The injured were taken from the wrecked building in boats.

Murdered in Wine.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 18.—A fatal duel with pistols has been fought at the village of Krasnoe-Selo, near here. The participants were Prince Vadbolsky and Lieut. Tomonossow, both officers of the imperial guard. Tomonossow was killed. The affair was the outcome of a quarrel between the two men which arose after a supper at which both drank wine freely.

Sacrificed Home for Love.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Feb. 18.—Excitement was occasioned here yesterday by the sudden disappearance of Jacob Lauter, son of Mrs. Lauter, a grocer. It has since been learned that the young man was desperately in love, sacrificed a good home to gain his better half and skipped to parts unknown.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

Selling at Cost.

In a great majority of cases this sign is a fraud. The intelligent public know very well that merchants are not doing business for fun. They are not in it to sell goods at cost. Loss puts nothing in a merchant's purse. He can't live on loss.

There Are Times,

however, when the question of profit is put aside. A merchant doesn't, of course, expect to live on loss! He much prefers that none should come. But a wise merchant knows that loss at times is inevitable on certain classes of goods if kept over another season. So he accepts the situation and shoulders his loss at once instead of postponing it and risking greater.

THE ALLIANCE.

The Various Lodges in Mason Organize a County Union Yesterday.

List of Officers—Louisville Denounced for Her Treatment of the Tobacco Growers.

The Farmers and Laborers' Union, better known as the Farmers' Alliance, met at the court house yesterday for the purpose of organizing a County Union.

The house was called to order at 11 a. m. and after the object of the meeting was explained, a recess was taken until 1 p. m. At that hour the delegates from the various lodges in the county reassembled. Between fifty and seventy-five were present.

Mr. J. G. Blair, of Nicholas County, Assistant State Lecturer, addressed the crowd. He spoke at some length appealing to the members to throw aside party prejudice hereafter and support only such men as would strive to carry out the aims and objects of the Alliance. He said they wanted money and plenty of it. He thought the Government should increase the circulating medium, until it amounted to $50 for every man, woman and child in the country. He thought this was the one thing needed to insure prosperity to all. He talked then for a while about the down-trodden and oppressed farmers and laborers, and was especially severe on trusts, monopolies and such. He was in favor of equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

At the close of his speech, all who were not members of the order were asked to leave the room, and the Alliance went into executive session.

A call of the house showed that delegates were present from Orangeburg, Mt. Gilead, Helena, Rectorville and Farmers' Hope.

An organization of the County Union was then perfected by the election of the following officers:

President—Squire Wm. Luttrell, of Helena. Vice President—B. H. Farrow, of Mt. Gilead. Secretary—C. P. Vawter, of Rectorville. Treasurer—T. H. Best, of Orangeburg. Lecturer—S. T. Farrow, of Mt. Gilead. County Business Agent—A. J. Yancey, of Farmers' Hope.

Doorkeeper—S. J. Burr, of Farmers' Hope. Chaplain—H. T. Ford, of Helena. Steward—Wm. Meenach, of Farmers' Hope.

The election and installation of officers was followed by a short lecture by Squire Luttrell, after which T. B. Best, S. T. Farrow and Wm. Meenach were appointed a Committee on Resolutions. They reported the following which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The prosperity of our most important industry depends upon the permanent success of the Kentucky Tobacco Growers Association, and in view of the violent opposition by the Tobacco Exchange of Louisville and the discourtesy shown our association managers by the city of Louisville, be it

Resolved, That in our opinion it would be wisdom on the part of our Directors to remove the business of the association at once from Louisville to Lexington, or some other eligible point in the State.

Resolved, That the indignities of the Tobacco Exchange should arouse the honest indignation of every grower in the State, and Louisville should be entirely ignored in the future in marketing our product.

Resolved, That this Union extend a vote of thanks to J. H. Kirk for his gentlemanly bearing and courteous treatment.

S. T. FARROW, Chairman.

T. B. BEST.

W. H. MEENACH.

The meeting then adjourned.

"The Wife."

Don't fail to see this play to-night. The New York Sun says: "It is clever throughout. There are scenes of touching tenderness, others of refined humor, and the interests of all sorts, once aroused, are kept up to the end. Its characters are skillfully drawn. Its story possesses interest, and there are situations of rare dramatic strength. In a visual sense the production of 'The Wife' is particularly admirable. 'The Wife' is well written and consequently effective."

The Street Railway Company is having considerable trouble to secure ties to complete the new track. None could be found in this section, and a party was sent to Clay City this morning to see if the required number could be secured there. Between 4,000 and 5,000 will be needed.

The Maysville correspondent of the Cincinnati Post declares that a great deal of poker playing is being done in this city, notwithstanding all the efforts made by the police officials to suppress the evil. A gentleman informed the Bulletin yesterday that there were three or four "dens" in Maysville now, but declined to locate them.

"The Wife" is coherent, wholesome and sensible. It reflects the truth of human nature. It touches the hearts of the folks that sit before the play nightly. The audience follow it with breathless attention. The humorous passages are pleasing and original. The characters are strongly drawn—the dialogue is never dull. There is an abundance of pretty sentiment that strikes home. In all mechanical matters the production is commendable and its pictorial effects beautiful."—N. Y. Times.

I have been strongly in its favor ever since. My own experience and that of my family convinces me that this remedy is the best in the world. That may be strong language, but that is what I think.
